

CURRICULUM VITAE

Part A. PERSONAL INFORMATION

| | | | |
|--|---------------------|--|--|
| First name | Manuel | | |
| Family name | Hidalgo | | |
| Open Researcher and Contributor ID (ORCID) | 0000-0001-6352-2576 | | |
| WoS Researcher ID | H-7887-2015 | | |

A.1. Current position

| | | | |
|--------------|---|----------------|-------------------|
| Position | Associate Profesor | | |
| Initial date | July 2018 | | |
| Institution | Universidad Carlos III de Madrid | | |
| Department | Social Sciences | | |
| Country | Spain | Teleph. number | (+34) 91 624 9684 |
| Key words | International politics, comparative politics, geopolitics, political ecology, state-society relations, Latin America, Venezuela, elections, democratization | | |

A.2. Previous positions

| Period | Position/Institution/Country/Interruption cause |
|-----------------|--|
| 11/2001-06/2018 | Interim Associate Professor / UC3M / Spain |
| 01/1998-05/2001 | Adjunct Professor / New York University in Madrid / Spain |
| 04/1995-03/1997 | Post-doctoral researcher / Stanford University / USA |
| 09/1993-03/1996 | Assistant professor / UC3M / Spain |
| 01/1989-12/1992 | PhD. Student / Complutense University / Spain |
| 10/1987-12/1998 | Researcher / Association for Research and Specialization in Latin American Studies / Spain |

A.3. Education

| PhD, Licensed, Graduate | University/Country | Year |
|--|---|------|
| PhD in Political Science | Universidad Complutense de Madrid / Spain | 1995 |
| Specialization in Constitutional Law and Political Science | Center for Political and Constitutional Studies / Spain | 1994 |
| Ciencias Políticas | Universidad Complutense de Madrid / Spain | 1988 |

Part B. CV SUMMARY

Manuel Hidalgo is an Associate Professor of Political Science at the University Carlos III de Madrid. He has participated in ten national competitive research projects and two competitive research projects funded by the Community of Madrid. Additionally, he has collaborated on several privately funded research projects both domestically and internationally. He has supervised many master's thesis projects. As a result of his research work, M. Hidalgo has published over ten articles in JCR-indexed journals and ten other papers in journals indexed in databases such as Scopus and Latindex. He has contributed over fifteen chapters to edited books and authored several reviews, working papers, and other documents. He has received two six-year research periods (sexennial) in recognition of his scholarly work. Moreover, he has participated in numerous national and international conferences and workshops. His teaching in recent years has been linked to topics of international politics and geopolitics, subjects closely linked to his research agenda.

His main field of work has been basically comparative-international politics, to which in recent years other lines have been added, related but with their own autonomy: welfare states, especially regarding state-society relations, political ecology, and political conflicts / armed conflicts, considering geopolitical dynamics. Where possible, he has tried to collaborate with other researchers from related fields of knowledge.

In Comparative Politics, using Venezuela as a case study, he has addressed several theoretical issues that have been discussed in the academic community in recent decades: party systems, economic reforms, populist regimes, petro-states, quality of democracy, democratic backsliding, forensic analysis of elections and the behavior of the middle sectors and their relationship with the stability of the political regime after the coming to power of Chavismo in 1999. More recently, due to the deep crisis that the country is suffering, he has analyzed the migration flows with Spain based on theoretical approaches that emphasize the circularity of human capital.

In addition, to obtain a better comparative vision of the conflicts and changes in the Andean political systems, he has ventured into a deeper analysis of political life in Colombia, especially after the signing of the peace agreement between the government and the guerrilla FARC-EP in 2016 and a research stay at the Universidad de los Andes in Bogotá.

Currently, in addition to studying the political dynamics in both countries, he is analyzing the complex border relationship through his participation in a national research project involving leading specialists from several countries. He recently conducted field research in several cities along the Colombian border. He has several works in progress on different topics that incorporate geographical and geopolitical aspects in the analysis of the Colombian case and its relationship with Venezuela.

In recent years, he has also developed the line of research on the transformations of the welfare state, which has acquired its own contours. In a first phase, he was interested in models of social welfare and the study of the factors behind the precariousness of contemporary social life from the Spanish case. More recently, in the context of the transformations of contemporary societies and the processes of individualization, he has studied community actions in contemporary democracies and their impact on their deepening at the local level, taking as a reference the case of Medialab-Prado Madrid. Furthermore, in the context of the intervention of the welfare state, he has recently analyzed, from a comparative perspective, issues of corruption and accountability in a research project financed by the Community of Madrid. More recently, he has begun to study sustainable socio-ecological practices for the ecological transition of advanced democracies. In a competitive research project led by the University of the Basque Country, together with other researchers, he is analyzing pastoralism in Spain as an adaptive socio-ecological practice in the face of climate change adaptation and mitigation, and as a tool to prevent episodes of extreme fires that lead to a net increase in greenhouse gas emissions, emerging risks to human security, and increasing economic losses.

Mr. Hidalgo has held several academic management positions at UC3M. He currently serves as Deputy Vice Rector for Internationalization and Co-Director of the Master in Geopolitics and Strategic Studies. In the past, he has been Academic Secretary of the Department of Political Science and Sociology and Vice Dean of the School of Social Sciences and Law.

He has combined his work at UC3M with participation as an observer in nearly twenty international election observation missions for various organizations (such as OSCE, OAS & EU).

Part C. RELEVANT MERITS

C.1. Publications (last 10 years, 2014-2023)

Journals

1. T. P. Bravo & M. Hidalgo. 2023. La migración de españoles a Venezuela: la circularidad del capital humano canario (1940-2022). Araucaria, 25(54).
2. B. Alarcón & M. Hidalgo. 2023. Elecciones, clientelismo competitivo y autocratización en Venezuela. Revista de Estudios Políticos, (200), 249-282.
3. J. Ríos Sierra & M. Hidalgo Trenado. 2022. Entre la lucha armada y la paz: una aproximación a la madurez del conflicto armado colombiano (1982-2016). Ayer. Revista de Historia Contemporánea, 128(4), 285-313.
4. J. Ríos, M. Hidalgo & L. F. Medina. 2021. From green to ripe: Dynamics of peacemaking in Colombia (1998–2016). Rationality and Society, 33(3), 282-312.
5. P. Klimek, P., R. Jiménez, M. Hidalgo, A. Hinteregger & S. Thurner. 2018. Forensic analysis of Turkish elections in 2017–2018. PloS one, 13(10), e0204975.
6. R. Jiménez, M. Hidalgo & P. Klimek. 2017. Testing for voter rigging in small polling stations, Science Advances 3(6): e1602363
7. J. Corrales y M. Hidalgo. 2017. The Quality of Venezuelan Democracy under Hugo Chávez (1999-2013), Partecipazione & Conflitto 10(1): 89-118.
8. B. Alarcón, A. Álvarez & M. Hidalgo. 2016. Can Democracy Win in Venezuela?. Journal of Democracy, 27(2): 20-34.
9. M. Hidalgo & A. Álvarez. 2016. The 2015 parliamentary elections in Venezuela, Electoral Studies 43: 187-190.
10. R. Castelló & M. Hidalgo. 2015. Ayudas sociales y precariedad de condiciones de vida: España 1995-2010, Oñati Socio-Legal Series, 5(4): 1006-1030.
11. R. Jiménez & M. Hidalgo. 2014. Forensic analysis of Venezuelan elections during the Chávez presidency, PLoS ONE, DOI: 10.1371/journal.pone.0100884.
12. M. Hidalgo. 2014, The 2012 and 2013 presidential elections in Venezuela, Electoral Studies, 34: 315-321.

Book chapters

1. M. Hidalgo & J. Ríos. 2022. La FARC frente a la democracia colombiana: una mirada tras las elecciones del 2018 y 2019. In F. Botero, B. Ortega, J.F. P. Uribe & L. W. Otero (eds.). En configuración permanente: Partidos y elecciones nacionales y subnacionales en Colombia, 2018-2019. Universidad de los Andes.
2. M. Hidalgo. 2017. La clase media venezolana ante el colapso económico. In L. Paramio y C. Güemes (eds.), Las nuevas clases medias latinoamericanas: ascenso e incertidumbre, Madrid: Centro de Estudios Políticos y Constitucionales.
3. M. Hidalgo & J. M. Puente. 2016. Petro-estados y regímenes políticos: el caso de Venezuela (1999-2015). 2016. In B. Alarcón Deza y M. A. Martínez Meucci (eds.), Transición democrática o autocratización revolucionaria. El desafío venezolano II, Caracas: Universidad Católica Andrés Bello, 301-326.
4. M. Hidalgo. 2015. Desconfianza institucional, cambio político y gobernabilidad: Paraguay y las elecciones generales de 2013. In Rosa Conde e Isabel Wences (eds.), Cambio político, desafección y elecciones en América Latina, Madrid: Centro de Estudios Políticos y Constitucionales.

C.2. Congress / Workshops (last 5 years, 2019-2023)

1. M. Hidalgo. “Dinámica geopolítica de la frontera colombo-venezolana,” (oral presentation). Workshop “¿Qué perspectivas le esperan a la Venezuela de hoy?,” International Hybrid Latin American Studies Association Congress, Vancouver, Canada, May 24-27, 2023.

2. M. Hidalgo, L. F. Medina Sierra & I. Cabrera Nosa. “La frontera colombo-venezolana como espacio de conflicto” (paper presentation). International Workshop, Fronteras del Mundo Hispánico. Ideas, Conflictos, Identidades. Getafe, Spain, December 14-16, 2022.
3. M. Hidalgo. “La persistencia del conflicto armado en la frontera colombo-venezolana: actores, estrategias y gobernanza” (paper presentation). 16th Congreso Español de Ciencia Política y de la Administración, Girona, Spain, September 7-9, 2022.
4. Y. Camero & M. Hidalgo. “La consolidación de un régimen neopatrimonial en la Venezuela de Nicolás Maduro (2013-2020)” (paper presentation). 16th Congreso Español de Ciencia Política y de la Administración, Girona, Spain, September 7-9, 2022.
5. M. Hidalgo. “Venezuela y la persistencia de la crisis multidimensional: escenarios” (workshop chair). International Virtual Latin American Studies Association Congress, May 26-29, 2021.
6. M. Hidalgo. “(Re)construcción democrática tras escenarios de violencia política en América Latina” (panel discussant). 14th Congreso Español de Ciencia Política y de la Administración, Salamanca, Spain, July 10-12, 2019.
7. M. Hidalgo. “Participatory processes and digital tools. The case of MediaLab-Prado Madrid” (paper presentation). Sharing Society International Conference, Bilbao, Spain, May 23-24, 2019.

C.3. Research projects (last 5 years, 2019-2023)

As a collaborating researcher

1. Construyendo la sociedad sostenible. Movilización, participación y gestión de prácticas socio-ecológicas

PI: Benjamín Tejerina Montaña * Universidad del País Vasco* 09/2022 – 08/ 2025

Ref.: PID2021-126611NB-I00 – Spanish Ministry of Science and Innovation

2. Conflictos fronterizos en España y América Latina (1840-2020)

PI: Jacobo García Álvarez * Universidad Carlos III de Madrid* 09/2021 - 08/2025

Ref.: PID2020-114088GB-I00 – Spanish Ministry of Science and Innovation

3. ON TRUST/CM. Programa interuniversitario en cultura de la legalidad – GIDYJ

PI: José María Sauca Cano Universidad Carlos III de Madrid 01/2020 – 04/2023

Ref.: H2019/HUM/5699 – Comunidad de Madrid

4. El impacto de la acción colectiva colaborativa. Estudios de los efectos de prácticas, vínculos, estructuras y movilizaciones en la transformación de las sociedades actuales

PI: Benjamín Tejerina Montaña Universidad del País Vasco 01/2017 – 12/2020

Ref.: CSO2016-78107-R – Spanish Ministry of Economy and Competitiveness