

*International Conference on Business and Human Rights
Seville, 20-21 October 2016*

POSTER PRESENTATIONS

20 October: 12.15 -13.30
Venue: Hall Auditorium Law School

Name	Institution	Title
Sofie Baker Djoumessi	SciencePo	Business and Human Rights in Africa
Stephanie Bijlmakers	KU Leuven	The Role of Tort law and Private International law in Operationalizing the Human Rights Due Diligence Concept and Legal Implications: Towards a Presumption of a Legal Duty of Human Rights Due Diligence
Lara Blecher	PIRC	Codes of Conduct: The Trojan Horse of International Human Rights Law?
Nicolas Bueno	Université de Lausanne	Holding corporations accountable for violations of the right to just conditions of work in global operations: Some practical strategies
Howard Chitimira	North-West University, Faculty of Law, South Africa	A General Analysis Of 'Torture' As A Human Rights Violation In Zimbabwe
Daniel Iglesias Márquez	Tarragona Centre for Environmental Law Studies (CEDAT) - Rovira i Virgili University	Environmental Litigation against European Corporations as a Tool for Achieving Sustainable Development
Nicola Karlebach & Katie Shay	Yahoo	Yahoo's approach to business and human rights
Filip Konstanecki	Universiteit Leiden	Consumer Advocacy Mechanisms: A Socio-Legal Analysis

International Conference on Business and Human Rights
Seville, 20-21 October 2016

Stefanie Lemke	Netherlands Helsinki Committee (NHC)	Lawyering and Human Rights Due Diligence: A Success Story for the Implementation of the UNGPs in Near Future?
Liliana Lizarazo Rodríguez & Philippe De Lombaerde	University of Antwerp	Human Rights Impact Assessments of Free Trade and Investments Agreements: A Critical Assessment
Deborah Martens	Centre for EU Studies - Ghent University	Labour rights governance: does it take two to tango?
Ivan Leonardo Martínez Pinilla	University of Rome "Tor Vergata" - Italy	The World Bank Group operations in Conflict Affected States and the Ruggie Principles
Ana M <sup>a</sup> Ovejero	Fundacion Fernando Pombo & Universidad Europea De Madrid	Good practices by business lawyers in the implementation of the Guiding Principles at companies.
Maria Patakyová & Maria Patakyová	Comenius University in Bratislava	Human Dignity under the Umbrella of the Doctrine Rebus Sic Stantibus versus the Principle of Pacta Sunt Servanda in Business Contracts
Marta Sosa Navarro & Adriana Espinosa González	Universidad Carlos III de Madrid	Definitional principles for Human Rights Risks Assessment in supply chains
Beata Stappers Karpinska	Terre des Hommes Nederland	Human rights diligence with respect for children's rights
Kristina Stonjekova	Leiden University College The Hague	Assessing the viability of legal remedies available to oil-bearing communities in Nigeria against human rights abuses by extractive multinational corporations (MNCs) operating in the country, namely, Shell Oil, with the explicit focus on the home state jurisdiction and other alternative litigation and regulatory options beyond the host state
Lieselot Verdonck	Human Rights Centre of Ghent University	Business: shielded from international law, but not from human rights obligations