

Start your journey in consulting – apply for the Roland Berger European Female Talent Program and become the participant in the Spain office

European Female Talent Program

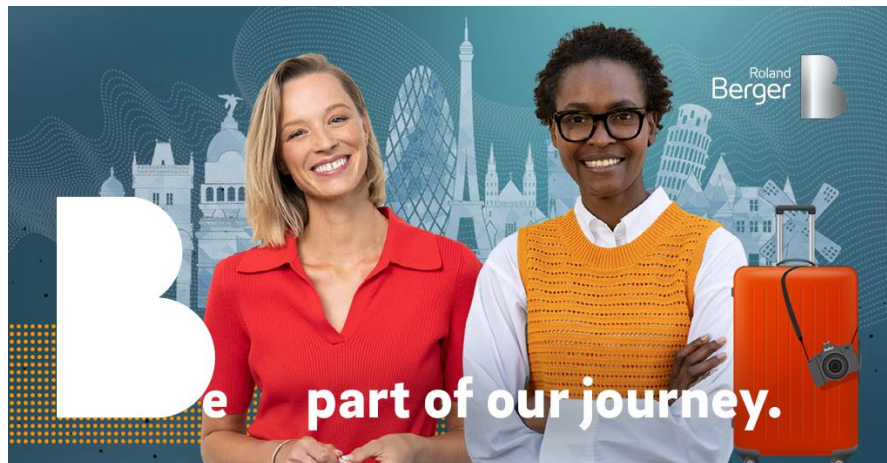

Insights from participants

- Our 24-month program offers the opportunity to get to know two other European Roland Berger offices beside to your home base in Stockholm
- Regular training and coaching for female consultants to foster your personal and professional development
- Building an international network and meet other female consultants from other practice groups and offices
- You will have the support of a female mentor throughout your journey

"Generally, I believe you do this program for the learning curve. I believe my main learnings, on a personal level, have been related to the open and honest conversations with the participants of the program and my female Buddies."

"Helps you to build a stronger network across Europe, with all colleagues."

"So early on in your career get experience from different office locations, being exposed to different projects, expertise areas, and ways of working. It's really valuable."
