Accommodation:

University Residences	The Residences Office hopes to be able to provide university residences to all exchange students who are studying at Cardiff University for the full academic year. There are a number of Halls of Residence and Student Houses to choose from, offering catered, part-catered and self-catered residences. Around 70% of residences are en-suite, which means that each study bedroom has its own bathroom. Standard residences have shared bathroom facilities, which are shared between 4 and 8 people. Self-catered residences have communal kitchen areas to prepare food. The Residences Office cannot guarantee “part session” (i.e. one semester only) students a place in University residences. Students coming for only one semester can still apply for a place in University residences, but it is advisable to also seek accommodation in the private sector. Students staying for the Autumn semester only can join the central international office “house hunting programme” in mid- September. More information on accommodation can be found at http://www.cardiff.ac.uk/study/accommodation/undergraduates
Other housing options	There is also accommodation available in the private sector. However, some landlords may be reluctant to offer short-term tenancy agreements so it is important to research carefully. The Residences Office maintains regularly updated lists of flats and shared houses. The list is available from https://www.cardiff.ac.uk/study/accommodation/postgraduates/private-sector The Student Advisory Service can help students with any private accommodation concerns and can give advice on what to consider when thinking about renting private accommodation. It is recommended that students come to Cardiff before their period of study commences in order to look for suitable accommodation.
Accommodation fees	The accommodation costs compare very favorably with those of other UK universities. A National Union of Students survey found Cardiff University to charge some of the lowest fees in the UK.
